

Wear Blue: Run to Remember

On Monday, May 29, 2017, over 20,000 runners and walkers around the world will become a living memorial through their steps to honor generations of America's fallen heroes.

This year's run highlights the 100th anniversary of United States' entrance into World War I.

Runners and walkers can join the Memorial Day mission by registering now at www.wearblueruntoremember.org for no cost. Participants will be provided the name of an American Service Member who died in battle.

Runners will receive a unique bib to share the name of the service member whom they honor with their steps.

The Memorial Day Run is really for any type of runner or walker no matter what their athletic level and people of all ages are encouraged to participate in this event!

Happy Memorial Day! May 29th

Memorial Day is a federal holiday in the United States for remembering the people who died while serving in the country's armed forces. Memorial Day eventually extended to honor all Americans who died while in the military service. It marks the start of the unofficial summer vacation season, while Labor Day marks its end.
